

WILL I SEE YOU AGAIN?

Your words were pearls of wisdom
Your memory becomes a phantom
Now so far, million miles away
Will I ever see you again, one day?

My soul prays for you every night
That night your hug was warm and tight
Later on your kiss was so sweet
But incredibly short and fleet.

SINCE OUR PATHS HAVE CROSSED

Since our paths have crossed
Life's no longer the same
My feelings struggle inside
And tend to drive me insane.

Since our paths have crossed
I'd like to tell thee
Without you I'm just a skiff
Which is wrecked in the sea.

THE DAY OF THE SWAN

The sun was drawing to a close
Its dim light trembling on a rose
A white swan swimming in the lake,
Around it the world is about to shake.

I stare at him and I remember you
I don't believe that this is true
Remember me with a big smile
And happiness shining in your eyes the sunset's coming in a while in the darkness you'll have time to cry.
